

Dear Merchant:

Season's Greeting!
Happy Holidays!
Merry Christmas!

You want my trust and my business. You must EARN it. I'm counting on your cheerful cooperation this Christmas. My family and friends and our online network and THEIR families and friends and networks are watching closely because this will heavily impact our shopping patterns AFTER Christmas as well.

As we consider buying our CHRISTMAS gifts from you, we expect you and your staff to show deep, profound respect for - and genuine tolerance of this annual highlight of our traditional Christian culture. Thanks in advance for creating an environment that is not hostile to our First Amendment Freedoms, our Civil Rights, our American traditions and our deeply-held personal convictions. Also thanks for not being hostile to your many employees who also hold these convictions and beliefs.

This written notice initiates my being wished 'Merry Christmas' in our anticipated transaction. I INSIST on it as a non-negotiable condition of shopping here. Make me a happy Christmas camper.

Thanks in advance, for your cultural sensitivity or at least your business good sense

Merry Christmas!

Visit <http://www.PleaseWishMeAMerryChristmas.org> for more information about this grassroots project. If you want to sponsor a sub-page linking to your store's homepage please go to the Merchants Who Support Christmas page on the site. There will be news releases issued soon to help focus public attention on merchants who for whatever reason(s) support Christmas.

Merry Christmas!

Print extra pages and give them to friends and neighbors!
Take some warm cookies! 'Tis the Season!

Cut out these buttons and attach to your clothing or hat with a safety pin, paper clip, etc. Or fold over at the edge, back to back and use as Christmas ornaments!

Car window sign that you can tape to car window.

Cut the above notice and put in conspicuous place.

Mini-buttons for lapel pins, handcrafts, etc.

Cut this out on the dashed line, fold in half at the dotted line and insert into your shirt or blouse pocket with button hanging outside!

Fold here

